Excerpt: .not as yet been stamped as wholly good by the seal of Time. By stucco walls we mean those that are constructed with a metal base supported by wood and coated with a layer of cement mortar. When first completed such a building looks inviting with its light walls and its red roof, but Time soon lays its disfiguring hand upon it, soils its once light surface to a dingy gray and irremediably streaks and blotches it with dirt; cracks develop because of the shrinkage of the timbers supporting the metal base and its stucco surface; leaks appear here and there and ere long the stucco begins to drop off and cannot be renewed without unsightly spots and an indication of early depreciation, The surface of a stuccoed frame house suffers less in a dry than in a moist country, but some dampness is...
