The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy; 3Tea, they have oppressed the stranger wrongfully. --Ezek. xxii. 29. Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them. --Matt. vii. 12. What you do not like when done to yourself, do not do to others. --Confucius Doctrine of the Mean (chap. xiii). The spectacle now presented by the Government of this country, in its attitude toward the Chinese, even leaving* Chtistianity entirely out of the question, ought to bring the blush of shame to the face of every honorable, fair-minded man. Seeking, even insisting upon, a treaty of amity and trade with a weaker people, pledging its national honor for the protection of any of that people who come to us, and yet, knowingly and willfully, allowing for years the most constant, systematic persecution of the Chinese in our land, in defiance of treaty, law, and justice; and finally, at the bidding of the lowest, wickedest, most brutal, of our population, -- the balance of power, --enacting laws that deliberately insult this very nation with which we have such treaty, violate the whole spirit of our Constitution, dishonor God, and make possible such crimes as the Wyoming massacre. I believe before God that the anti-Chinese laws, and those who enacted them, are largely responsible for these massacres and other outrages that...
